Turn on Porch Light Tonight

Mothers To March

More than 150 women will go from house to house in Washington C. H. tonight to collect contributions to carry on the fight against polio and its crippling aftermath.

This is the annual Mothers March on Polio and it is the most important phase of the annual March of Dimes.

William Junk, president of the Fayette County unit of the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation, and Willard Holdren, chairman of this year's March of Dimes, emphasized that, while the Salk Vaccine has done much to prevent polio, there still remains much to be done in restoring victims of the disease to normal—or as nearly normal as possible—lives.

They both explained that it is for human rehabilitation that most of the money from the March of Dimes now goes.

Pointing up the rehabilitation, they said that four victims of infantile paralysis are now being treated here—two in Washington C. H., one in Jeffersonville and one in rural Fayette County.

In 1956, rehabilitation treatments for these four cases cost $6,287.40; last year the cost was $1,195.

They said that modern science and the development of new methods are restoring many victims of polio.

Half of the money from the March of Dimes remains in the county and half goes to the National Foundation. Two years ago, Fayette County had to draw $2,000 from the National Foundation to meet the needs here, Junk said.

Reports of Fires Should Be Brief But Informative

City Is Seeking To Conserve Expensive Equipment

Fire Chief George Hall urged Thursday that residents reporting fires tell the Fire Department briefly what is burning and exactly where the blaze is located.

The reason: To conserve expensive equipment which is not needed on minor calls.

Under a new set of regulations, the Fire Department will send only the new tanker pump on trash, automobile and other small fires.

Two pieces of equipment (the new pump and the aerial truck

Council To Get Fire Data Tonight

Copies of a report on the Washington C. H. Fire Department with recommendations for its improvement will be distributed to city councilmen Thursday night.

Council is meeting at 7 p. m. for a special session on annexation problems. Contents of the fire report have not yet been disclosed, pending study by city officials.

which also is equipped with a pump) to school, factory and business building fires in the downtown district.

On all other fires the new pump and an old pump will be sent.

Volunteer firemen will be summoned with the Courthouse siren on all calls except those known to be auto, trash or other minor blazes.

THIS SYSTEM, Hall points out, will give fire-fighting efficiency at minimum cost.

At the same time it follows recommendations outlined by the Ohio Inspection Bureau which also has urged addition of two trained firemen if the city is to maintain its present Class 7 insurance rating.

The Bureau also has recommended that the city purchase a new pump for which Hall is now preparing specifications.

Council set aside $8,000 for that purpose in December and the 1958 appropriation ordinance contains an additional $5,000 for the pump fund.

KILL-CRAZY KID CAPTURED

Nebraska Relaxing after Capture Of Youth Accused in 10 Murders

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Lincoln recoiled from shock and terror today after assurance that a mad slayer, who had snuffed out ten lives, was behind bars.

But troubled officials fear more bodies could be found as they have been found at intervals since Monday.

Swagging Charles Starkweather, 19, and his steady girl friend, Caril Fugate, 14, who have been charged with first-degree murder were jailed at Douglas, Wyo., Wednesday.

Striking by threes, the youth first killed Caril's family of three. Then in another foray discovered a day later, he killed a onetime hunting companion and two high school sweethearts.

Later, he shot down a prominent Lincoln business man; stabbed his wife and their 51-year-old housekeeper.

It was the tenth killing that broke the chain. A few minutes after he opened fire on a salesman napping in his car along a Wyoming highway he ran into Joe Sprinkle, tough Casper, Wyo., oil worker who wasn't afraid of the killer's rifle. Sprinkle stopped to investigate the stalled cars, approached the situation and grappled for the rifle.

The killer got away, but by then law officers had arrived and he gave up after a short chase.

The victims slain in a 48-hour period:

Marion Bartlett, 57, Lincoln, Caril's stepfather; Velda Bartlett, 37, Lincoln, her mother; and Betty Jean Bartlett, not quite 3, their daughter.

August Meyer, 70, Bennet farmer; Robert Jensen, 17, Bennet high school student; and Carol King, 16, Bennet, Robert's girl friend.

C. Lauer Ward, 47, Lincoln business man; Clara Ward, 47, his wife; and Lillian Fencel, 51, the Ward's housekeeper.

Merle Collison, 37, Great Falls, Mont., salesman.

Apprehension spread in Lincoln as the bloody toll mounted, but it was the wanton killing of Ward, president of the Capitol Steel Works, Mrs. Ward and their housekeeper, raising the count of Nebraska victims to nine, which set the city in its final frenzy.

Gov. Victor Anderson ordered the National Guard mobilized.

done all those other things."

"All she wanted was just to go to school and be a nurse, and granny was ready to help her make it. But now that money will have to go into coffins for Marion Barbara (Caril's mother), and Betty Jean."

Downtown in Lincoln anger did not subside quickly. Lancaster County Atty. Elmer Scheele said he would try to have young Starkweather returned here for trial though the Wyoming killing gives that state a priority.

Mayor Bennett Martin said "we still don't know whether the number of victims (in Nebraska) will stop at nine."

So many volunteers reported to the sheriff's office for posse duty that some had to be turned away.

Gov. Anderson may have been one of the last to see Ward alive. He said the business man visited him at the Capitol late Tuesday, leaving for home about 5:30 p.m.

Ward's body was found just inside the door of his home about 18 hours later. His wife, her hands tied behind her, and the housekeeper lay dead in separate bedrooms upstairs, both stabbed to death.

The Ward's 14-year-old son, Michael, was away at prep school in Connecticut.

In Lincoln the boy's father, Guy Starkweather, 47, a carpenter, said "I guess everybody can sleep tonight. I don't know whether I'll sleep tonight."

The elder Starkweather admitted he had feared for his own and his wife's safety.

"I don't think Charles would hesitate to shoot me," he said.

"Charlie always had a burst of temper, but never anything like this."

"I have an idea he thinks he would be better off if they had killed him."

Guy Starkweather said he believed "everything just built up inside Charlie until he went berserk. It could have been a lot of things, and that girl (Caril) has him wrapped around her little finger. He is to lose his sight within a year, and he may still be sick from a recent cold."

Asked about his son's eyesight, Starkweather said Charles was hit on the forehead with a piece of lumber a few years ago.

Mrs. Pansy Street, Caril's grandmother, was the one who concerned for her family prompted the investigation that disclosed the first of the chain of slayings.

Mrs. Street, who shares a one-room apartment with an invalid son, declared Caril "just couldn't have killed her own mother and

Youth, 19, Accused of 10 Slayings

Girl Friend, 14, Flees Boy's Car Just as Sheriff Closes In

DOUGLAS, Wyo. (AP)—A young kill-crazy gunman sought in a wave of 10 savage slayings was run to earth Wednesday in the badlands of eastern Wyoming.

Charles Starkweather, 19, and his brunette girl friend, Caril Fugate, 14, were captured after nine persons in Nebraska and one in Wyoming had been slain in a three-day period.

The girl told officers she feared Starkweather, red-haired and wearing rimless glasses, would kill her.

"They wouldn't have caught me if I hadn't stopped," Starkweather snarled as officers hailed him to a jail cell. "If I'd had a gun, I'd have shot them."

Automobile glass shattered by bullets in the wild chase that led to Starkweather's capture nicked the gunman's ear.

Sheriff Earl Hefflin said: "It was his own blood that got him. He thought he was shot dead'n hell when he saw that blood. He thought he was bleeding to death. That's the kind of yellow S.O.B. he is."

THE GIRL, in a state of shock after fleeing Starkweather's car before the final chase leading to his capture, was sheltered in the sheriff's living quarters on the second floor of the jail.

Two possible reasons for the wave of slayings came to light today.

At Lincoln, Neb., his father, Guy Starkweather, said "He is to lose his sight within a year," because of being hit on the head by a piece of lumber. The father said he believed "everything just built up inside Charlie until he went berserk."

County Atty. William Dixon at Douglas said a letter to Starkweather from Caril's mother was found in his pockets after his arrest. Dixon said the letter "attitude towards Starkweather."

Caril's mother, Mrs. Velda Bartlett, 37, was one of the nine persons killed in Nebraska.

Sheriff Hefflin served papers on Starkweather in his cell today charging him with the Wyoming slaying of a Montana shoe salesman. The sheriff said he had a hand-written statement from Starkweather, a statement "about as long as a rope." He wouldn't discuss it further.

He said he planned to get a statement today from the girl.

THE SQUAT, sharp-featured youth sunkenly spent two hours Wednesday night writing a statement in his jail cell here.

County Atty. William P. Dixon said when Starkweather had finished that "we have everything we need now."

Dixon filed murder charges against Starkweather in the death of Merle Collison, 37-year-old shoe salesman.

O'Neill's Plans Are Unaltered

GOP Chief Pledges All-Out Effort in Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP)—Republican leaders appear ready to campaign with about the same plan they had before Gov. C. William O'Neill suffered a mild heart attack a week ago Wednesday.

Ohio GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss told newsmen in Washington Wednesday: "We're in the same position we were before his illness. He is going to file his nomination papers on Monday, and we'll wage an all-out campaign in his behalf for governor."

Bliss was in Washington for a private luncheon meeting with Ohio's 17-member Republican delegation in the House.

Doctors report the governor is recuperating as expected. Dr. Robert C. Kirk, in his Wednesday bulletin on O'Neill's condition said:

"Everything is fine—better than might have been hoped for on the anniversary of his attack a week ago."

O'Neill's only possible opponent for the nomination, Alvin L. Spriggs of Mount Gilead, was in Columbus Wednesday, but he did not indicate whether he plans to file his petitions.

HE REPORTED he had enough signatures on his petitions to qualify.

Good Autos To Sell for 99 Cents Each

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—A Flint used car dealer is selling four cars for 99 cents each and another four for 99 apiece Friday. The eight people who'll get them have been waiting in line since Tuesday.

The cars have been completely reconditioned and are in good shape. The 99-centers have a retail value of $250. The 99-dollar jobs are worth about $500.

It's first-come-first-served. You can't sell your spot in line, you can't have a relief, and you get only 15-minute breaks.

First to show at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday was James Stewart, an unemployed factory worker.

The only woman in line is Mrs. Sandra Hollingshead, a mother of three, who was laid off from the General Motors A-C Sparkplug Division last week. "My husband thinks I'm nuts," she remarked.

Three students from the General Motors Institute, who have their school books with them to keep up with their classes, are utilizing fraternity pledges to bring them food.

They got scrambled eggs, toast and coffee in pup tents.

Stewart, who spent a year in Alaska, says the cold is the worst problem. Temperatures have been in the low 30s and despite hunting outfits and heavy bundling the nippy night wind is tough to buck.

Awaiting Out in Space: Marching Squirrels?

NEW YORK (AP)—An Air Force scientist says man may find outer space crawling with these mental hazards:

Marching squirrels, tiny rocket ships that fire pellets, and little men who swing on space ship instruments.

Reporting today to a meeting of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, experimental psychologist George T. Houty told of three pre-space-flight experiments.

One of these was conducted by McGill University scientists of Montreal, Canada. They wanted to find out what happened when you shut off sights, sounds and other sense stimuli. They closed male volunteers in cubicles for 48 hours.

Soon one subject reported: "A procession of squirrels with sacks over their shoulders marching purposefully across a snowfield..."

Another said he saw a miniature rocket ship shooting pellets at his arm.

In addition to having hallucinations, the volunteers became irritable and were unable to concentrate on complex ideas.

The volunteers were amused by the visions at first, but later complained that they interfered with their sleep.

Researchers made the experiments to determine if there is a background activity as well as normal sensory activity in the brain.

In another experiment, Houty and R. Payne confined 30 volunteers in cockpits and put them to work for 30 consecutive hours. They had to regulate and control certain occurrences using dials and buttons on instrument panels.

While allowed 20-minute breaks at mealtimes, they were not permitted to sleep.

Much to the surprise of researchers, the subjects reported hallucinations and illusions.

Some were simple and poorly defined—for instance: "the instrument panel kept melting and dripping to the floor."

Other subjects reported were well-organized phenomena such as: "On several occasions, the instrument showed a hippopotamus smiling at me."

Another said he spent a good deal of time brushing away little men who kept swinging on the air speed indicator and preventing him from reading it.

Standing: Sally Knost, freshman attendant (Larry Sharet); Judy Smith, junior attendant (Larry Carman); and Carolyn Haines, sophomore attendant (Don Snyder).

Both Jeffersonville and Bloomingburg high schools have selected their Homecoming Queens and courts to reign at celebrations Friday night.

The Jeff festivities will begin at 5 p. m. with a chili supper sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Club. Jeff and Good Hope reserve cagers will tangle at 7:15 p. m. with the varsity tussle scheduled to begin at 8:15.

A 50-50 records dance will follow the game along with a continuation of the chili supper.

The Bloomingburg Homecoming Friday night will feature a basketball game with Madison Mills.

Former Implement Dealer In Good Hope Now in Prison

CHILLICOTHE — A former Good Hope implement dealer started a 1-to-7 year term at hard labor in the Ohio Penitentiary Wednesday as a result of a larceny by trick charge filed in Ross County Common Pleas Court.

Pleading guilty to the indictment was Ronald E. Jones, 33, of Kingston, one-time nationally-recognized Allis-Chalmers dealer who for three years operated the Jones Implement Co. in Good Hope.

Jones, recently a Kingston implement dealer, was sentenced for victimizing Arthur Hartsock, Stoutsville, Route 1, in a tractor purchasing deal involving $1,750.

Hartsock, in purchasing the tractor signed papers financing the transaction. But upon learning what the carrying charges amounted to, he paid off the balance.

JONES' attorneys claimed in court that the money was deposited in a bank, and the bank took the money to apply to a note it held against him.

As a result, it was claimed, Jones was unable to repay Hartsock's money to the finance company. Hartsock complained when the financing firm began dunning him.

While his wife sat sobbing in the

Youth Problems Discussed By Panel at PTA Meeting

Many — but not all — juvenile delinquency problems are traceable to the parents three members of a panel agreed, at the conclusion of a discussion of "Problems of Our Youth" at the Central School Parent-Teacher Assn. meeting in the high school auditorium Wednesday night.

Members of the panel were a minister, the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church; a juvenile court probation officer, Richard J. McMullen, and a deputy sheriff, Don Thompson. PTA President Richard Whitehead was the moderator.

The minister approached the problems primarily from the prevention angle; the probation officer and the deputy sheriff approached it from the rehabilitation angle.

Out of the discussion came these major conclusions: that there are too many demands on children's time for parental guidance; that youth is confused because of the uncertainty of the future; that there are not enough places for youth to go for wholesome recreation; that young people have nothing worthwhile to occupy their time; that there is too little discipline in the home; that parents are too indulgent; that young people should have jobs and responsibilities and that the home holds the key role in the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

The panel spent considerable time discussing whether the names of juvenile offenders should be published without coming to any definite conclusions. However, it did come up with several observations. One was that, since rumor often stamps an innocent youth with guilt for some offense, publication of names of the guilty would clear the innocent. It also was suggested that names of the parents of offenders might be published.

Kill-Crazy Kid

salesman from Great Falls, Mont. Collison was shot as he slept in his car near here. An autopsy disclosed nine bullet wounds from a .22-caliber rifle.

First degree murder charges already have been filed against the pair in Nebraska.

Starkweather had an empty .22 caliber rifle when he was surprised by another motorist standing by Collison's car. And he snarled that "if I'd had a gun I'd have shot them" (his captors).

Meanwhile, at Lincoln, Neb., Lancaster County Atty. Elmer Scheele sent two officers by air to Douglas today.

Scheele said that "we are going to do our utmost to get him back here." Wyoming will have priority on prosecution if Dixon decides to press in the Collison killing.

There was no immediate statement on any possible charges against the Fugate girl.

Starkweather told officers he had forced her to go along with him on the wild ride that ended in Wyoming cattle country.

SHE HERSELF fled screaming from the car after Collison was shot and said that Starkweather was crazy and she feared for her own life.

Joe Sprinkle, 29-year-old old company employee, tussled briefly with Starkweather along the road and wrenched a .22-caliber rifle from his hands. Starkweather had threatened him when he stopped to offer aid.

It was then that sheriff's men drove up and Starkweather bolted in the black sedan stolen at Lincoln.

Sheriff Earl Heflin gave chase, firing as the two cars roared down the highway and through Douglas. Outside of Douglas Starkweather stopped and gave up.

If he faces Wyoming justice and is convicted of first-degree murder the penalty is the gas chamber. But Wyoming Gov. Milward Simpson is strongly opposed to capital punishment and recently stated he would continue his policy of commutation.

In Nebraska, the death penalty is exacted in the electric chair if a defendant is found guilty of first-degree murder and the jury sets the penalty at death.

Winter Farm Show Idea Under Study

COLUMBUS (AP)—The state agriculture director, Dr. Jim Hay, today said he will not know for some time whether it would be practical to hold a winter farm show in Ohio, probably in February or March.

Dr. Hay wants to find out whether youth activities could be emphasized as much with young people in school during the winter as they are at the annual Ohio State Fair in the fall.

Hay said one problem would be finding enough heated exhibition space. He said the Fairgrounds, Buckeye Building, Coliseum and Youth Building are heated and the Dairy Cattle Building could be heated.

No Tax Exemption On City Parking Lots

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court has unanimously upheld the decision of the State Board of Tax Appeals in denying tax exemption for municipal off-street parking garages.

The court said a statute permitting cities to acquire and operate off-street parking facilities for motor vehicles contained a provision against tax exemption.

The tax board originally refused exemption for a city-owned garage built in downtown Columbus.

Prober Calls Educator 'Liar'

Brooklyn School Aide's
Suicide Is Debated

NEW YORK (AP)—Top school officials say a junior high school principal may have killed himself because a grand juror threatened him with indictment. The foreman of the jury says this charge is a "deliberate lie."

The accusation came Wednesday at funeral services for George Goldfarb, 55, principal of Brooklyn's John Marshall School.

On Tuesday, Goldfarb leaped from the roof of his apartment house at the time he was to make his third appearance before the Brooklyn grand jury. The panel is probing crime and juvenile delinquency in the public schools.

Charles H. Silver, president of the City Board of Education, told newsmen at Goldfarb's last rites that the school principal had been threatened with indictment and "this probably caused him to take his life. He was very worried."

As School Supt. William Jansen listened and nodded approval Silver said: "Several hours before Mr. Goldfarb appeared before the grand jury last Thursday for the second time he came before the Board of Education."

"IN DISCUSSING with us his grand jury interrogation, he said that a juror had warned him he might be, or could be, indicted."

No indication was given on what charge Goldfarb could have been indicted.

Grand jury foreman A. George Golden immediately issued a denial, terming Silver's statement "a deliberate lie," adding that Silver "made that up out of his own mind to befuddle the public."

A continuous public patrol was established both inside and outside the Marshall school, where a 13-year-old girl was raped 10 days ago, a policeman on duty outside the school was roughed up, and a recreational teacher was assaulted inside the school.

Bloomington Dance Class Plans Party
BLOOMINGBURG — Plans were made for a March 14 party for members of the dancing class at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Bloomington Band Boosters held in the high school auditorium.

Mrs. Darrell Cool, president, led the routine business meeting, during which the group voted to purchase identification patches for band members' uniforms.

Boosters at Bloomington will hold their next regular meeting Feb. 25.

Triangle Restaurant Looted Tuesday Night

Police were still searching Tuesday for the burglar who took an undetermined amount of change and cigarettes from the Triangle Restaurant, 1429 Columbus Ave.

Vending machines were the source of the loot, Chief D. Valden Long said. The break-in occurred Tuesday night.

Also speaking Wednesday, Dr. Dale Oldham, pastor of the Park Place Church of God in Anderson, Ind., told the convention "it is sacrilegious for a minister to preach the living gospel as if he were selling shoestrings."

"The most effective preaching in times like these is being done by 'sons of God.' We need a power beyond our own, a wisdom and a saintliness beyond our own. Through a more intimate relationship to Christ we must find this."

City School Bond Issue Money Invested for Increased Yield

The Washington C. H. Board of Education, at a special meeting Wednesday night, authorized Clerk-Treasurer Fred Rost to invest proceeds from the sale of building bonds in United States treasury bills which will net enough interest to assist with other capital improvements in connection with the expansion program.

At the same time the board authorized a request for an advance draw of $53,000 in tax money from the county treasury to meet payrolls and a few current bills.

The investment resolution pointed out that is the desire of the board to utilize current cash balances from the bond sale proceeds to the best interests of taxpayers. Purchase of treasury bills will bring a much higher return than bank interest. The yield will be any where from 2 per cent to more than 3 per cent.

LAST FRIDAY the J. A. White Co. of Cincinnati, which purchased the $645,000 bond issue at an interest rate of 3 1/4 per cent plus a premium of $11,119, credited the full sum to the school board's account in the First National Bank here.

The bonds had been signed the previous day by Rost and Board President Elmer Reed—a procedure which required 645 signatures by each official.

Face simile signs were used on the bond coupons. If Rost and Reed had signed each coupon individually, each would have written his name 15,000 more times.)

First payments from the bond money were a $49,949.08 item to retire an anticipatory note issued to cover boiler installations at the high school, and $22,648.91 to the architect who receives 4 1/2 per cent of the total building cost for his architectural services and will get an additional 1 1/2 per cent on each payment to contractors as an inspection fee.

The balance is being invested, although interest on $14,205, representing the bond premium and accrued interest to Jan. 24 can be used only for bond retirement.

THE FIRST National Bank has agreed to act as agent in the investment in short-term government securities, without the usual commission, as a public service.

As the treasury bills mature, money not needed immediately to pay contractors will be reinvested.

Contractors' checks will be issued by the board only as the architect certifies that each part of the program has been completed and approved.

THE FIRST 28 of the 645 $1,000 bonds will be retired Dec. 1, 1959.

Strong prices for copper abroad helped shares of the industry. A cut in bankers acceptance rates was another sign of easier credit. But testimony in Washington by several economists that increased defense spending may not be enough to bring the economy out of its slump by mid-year was an item on the negative side.

U. S. Steel trimmed part of an early-point gain but continued in favor due to announcement of record yearly earnings. The second biggest steelmaker, Bethlehem, which reports on its '57 earnings today, was ahead a fraction at the start, then cancelled the gain. Youngstown Sheet and Lukens

Chrysler also backed away slightly from an initial I-point gain as the firing of its satellite-bearing Jupiter-C missile was still awaited. General Motors was firm and Ford eased.

Leading rails nudged ahead on average following their late rally of Wednesday.

U. S. government bonds were lower.

Jeff Basketeers Out For 'Season'

A freshman-team hooper from Jeffersonville won't be able to see much more basketball action this season — but there isn't much more to be seen, anyhow.

Frank S. Bowermaster, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Bowermaster, sprained his ankle in a game Tuesday which the Jeff squad lost to the Washington C. H. freshmen, 58-53.

Bowermaster learned from a physician Wednesday that he'll have to stay off the court for a while. But it's all right, Coach Bob Hildreth said the freshmen are "practically finished with their schedule."

MISS NANCY HELEN CANNON

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton J. Thoman of St. Petersburg, Fla., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Nancy Helen Cannon, to Mr. Thomas Edward Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Peterson, 1616 21st St., S. St. Petersburg, Fla., former residents of Washington C. H.

Miss Cannon is a 1950 graduate of Largo High School, Largo, Fla., and attended the Andrews School for Girls.

Mr. Peterson graduated from Washington C. H. High School in 1947. In 1951-52 he served with the Armed Forces in Germany.

Miss Cannon and Mr. Peterson are employed by the General Elec-

Dinner Honors Philip Grover

The office staff at the Fayette County Extension Service and the Fayette County Farm Bureau Cooperative Assn. honored Mr. Philip Grover, associate county agent, whose marriage to Miss Mary Lou Highfield will be an event of Feb. 9, with a buffet dinner in the Farm Bureau auditorium Wednesday afternoon.

The delicious dinner was served from a table beautifully decorated and centered with a lovely arrangement of yellow and white mums and yellow candles.

Mr. Grover thanked everyone graciously for a gift which they presented to him.

BPO Does Plan Valentine Party

The BPO Does met in the Elks Lodge room Tuesday night for their regular business meeting with Mrs. Enola Wilhelm, president conducting.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and accepted. Communications and reports of committees were also given.

Mrs. Emma Kelley, social chairman, announced that the Feb. 11 meeting will be a Valentine gift exchange party. Each member is to bring a Valentine gift.

It was also announced that the Elks will have a social get-together on Saturday in the Lodge rooms.

Mrs. Lillian Williams, past president, presented the immediate past president, Mrs. Mary Jo James, with a jeweled past president's pin. Mrs. James expressed her appreciation to the Drove for the pin.

Mrs. Wilhelm closed the meeting in ritualistic form.

Personals

Mr. Walter Plymale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Plymale, 320 E. Paint St., left Wednesday night for Cambridge, Mass., where he is enrolled at Harvard University.

Mrs. Eddie Ray Moots and children, Jeanette and Stevie, of Peebles, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moots, 1014 Briar Ave.

The Misses Sally and Jo Reiff, students at Ohio Wesleyan University, are spending the semester vacation with their mother, Mrs. N. M. Reiff, Rawlings St.

Maple Grove Church WSCS Holds Meeting

The Maple Grove Women's Society for Christian Service held an all-day meeting in the home of Mrs. John Rowland Wednesday.

The morning session was spent sewing articles for Memorial Hospital. A delicious potluck luncheon was enjoyed at the noon hour.

Mrs. Roy Garri, president, opened the business session with a hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers," a responsive reading entitled "Faith In God" and prayer.

The members voted to hold "World Day of Prayer" at the Maple Grove Methodist Church at 2 p. m. Friday, Feb. 21. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Clyde Carman, Mrs. Wesley Jones, Mrs. Carl Rea, Mrs. Ralph Garrison and Mrs. Otto Beeddy.

Mrs. Marion Dawson and Mrs. Garrison gave a report on the "work shop" they attended in Circleville.

Thank you notes were read: for the paragon piano donation; from the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Huges, for a gift; from a missionary station in Alaska for a Christmas box of clothing; and from Donald Wolfe and Ronald Taylor, two men in the service who received boxes at Christmas.

The meeting was closed with a hymn.

Barchet were "suite mates" at Ohio State University.

Following the ceremony, they attended the reception held in the Elyria County Club.

SHOP TALK

By SHARON

In light of the many conflicting views which have been expressed concerning this coming season's feminine fashions, we are happy to pass on to you the word we received.

A local buyer claims that among the customers she has observed trying on the new chemise, or sack silhouette, they are most becoming to the broad-shouldered, broad-hipped woman. As we once considered trying out for the Chicago Bears ourselves, this was the best news we could possibly have received. Come to think of it, the only flattering photo of us we recall was in a pink flannel sacque (or sack) sucking our thumb. Yes sir, it looks like this will be this dog's day!

WHILE RECEIVING this happy news, we wandered upon the good buy in sculptured nylon dusters. These are a delicate shade of blue, trimmed in white embroidered nylon ruffling. Of course, they are hand-washable and best of all, fully lined so they would make an excellent robe for the soon-to-be mother to take to the hospital. The marked down price on these is fantastic... only $4.45.

We note that in all the high fashion magazines, the models wear armloads of bracelets with their sheath or chemise. Another shop has marked their higher priced bracelets all down to 99 cents. At this price, we might be able to afford an armload.

We were particularly attracted to a gold link one which dangled silver and gold foreign coins. While buying them for yourself, bear in mind, bridge prizes, last minute gifts... or a Valentine gift for any woman.

Thoughts of valentines are quite naturally related to thoughts of love, and your shopper would like to relate a touching young love story.

Young Bucky Burbage was telling his mother, Mrs. Buckner Burbage of his love for one of his female classmates. He carefully explained near the end of his recital, "Mother, her front teeth are going to grow back in someday and anyway, she's going to keep on loving me when mine fall out."

Getting not too far away from love, (for we are truly infatuated with the next item on our shopping list) we found something quite new and unusual in hair decorations. These are plastic plaques done in the modern manner.

THERE ARE a pair of rather large rectangular plaques depicting two clowns. These are very vivid and striking... priced at $11.95 per pair.

For the hobbyist, there are two four-piece sets in a smaller size. One set places a chessman on each plaque. The other set is entitled The Gourmet Set and naturally features utensils of the gourmet. Each of these sets is priced at $9.95.

The final group of plaques are offered in two sizes and featured musicians strikingly etched in white on black. These are done in the manner of sketches frequently seen in the New Yorker magazine. The small size sells for $2.85 a piece and the larger at $5.95.

In the home furnished in modern decor, these would be effective in any room. However, they could be attractively used in almost any study, den or play room.

YOUR SHOPPER is going to finish up today by giving you some odd bits of this and that which have come her way lately. To give a homemade taste to prepared pudding mixes, add half a teaspoon of vanilla immediately after bringing to a boil. Cuts the arrowroot flavor.

For a quickie luncheon for unexpected guests, add a small can of chicken to a can of cream of celery soup, add a dash of onion salt and pour over chow mein noodles.

For the handicrafter, we have a new project: Cover pop bottle caps with purple percale. Stitch these together in the shape of a bunch of grapes. Stitch on to a piece of green felt cut leaf shape. These can be hung as wall plaques or used as hot plates. Are simple enough for a child to make.

SHOULD YOU DESIRE any further information about any of the items mentioned here call 3-5291 and ask for Sharon.

Curlyheads Say Thanks To Science

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Beauty Editor

Is your hair easy to control? If so, you're mighty lucky. More than 50 per cent of women find they get tangled up trying to put curl in their hair.

Some hair is amenable to curlers, bobby pins and even old rags. But some hair resists curling by any of these means.

The great thing about our age of beauty is the number of little assists we get in helping nature improve on itself. Girls with absolutely straight hair, for instance, can become curly-haired types, however briefly, in a matter of seconds. Those who choose

HOLD THAT WAVE... Use hair spray to hold wave in place or set new hairdo at home.

The right type of permanent wave can make the curly-haired periods last indefinitely.

A NEW self-styling hair spray helps not only to keep waves in place, but assists in helping you fashion a professionally finished hair style at home, even if your hair is straight as a broom straw.

If you'd make the pin-curling project easier, just spray your hair strand by strand, then pin up. Or pin-curl your hair first, then spray. Take your choice of methods, but either way, comb your hair and the curls are there to stay even if the day is damp or rainy.

This spray does not leave thick layers of sticky stuff over the hair or scalp if used properly. Follow directions, and your hair will look just as dreamy as the ads of the models you see in the newspaper.

ANY GIRL who has even a semblance of a wave can enjoy a manageable hair style every day with one of these new invisible sprays.

Just spray before you comb your hair, then with your comb, or even a hairbrush, push in a wave or coax a curl exactly where you want it, the way a professional hair stylist does.

Run your comb through the hair, and test your wave by pushing the hair up gently from the ends with the hands. When you see how the hair determines a wave on its own, you may emphasize it with the comb.

Hours after you use this pray-and-set method, you can refresh your hair style merely by whisking a dampened comb through your tresses, and pushing them back into place without re-spraying the hair. The damp comb reactivates the spray and restores a hair style to original loveliness.

Mincemeat Turnovers Hearty...and GOOD!

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor

When you want to serve a hearty dessert you can do no better, in our estimation, than to bake a batch of mincemeat turnovers.

They're just right after a supper of fish chowder or scalloped oysters and a tossed green salad. Enliven the salad, if you like, with matchstick-sized strips of Swiss cheese plus chicken and smoked tongue; or choose hard-boiled egg and anchovies for the addition.

Here's our most recent recipe for the turnovers, made from a package of mincemeat and shredded fresh apple plus piecrust mix enriched with cream. Because the pastries are brushed with egg yolk and milk they have an attractive shiny topping.

These turnovers are an excellent make-ahead dessert. Wrapped tightly and refrigerated for several days, they need only quick reheating in a hot oven before serving.

MINCEAPPLE TURNOVERS

Ingredients: 1 package (9 ounces) mincemeat, 1 1/2 cups water, 3 tablespoons light brown sugar, 1 1/2 cups coarsely shredded pared apple, 1 package (10 ounces) golden pie-crust mix, 1-3 cup heavy cream, 1 egg yolk, 2 tablespoons milk.

Method: Break mincemeat into small pieces in medium-size saucepan; add water and brown sugar. Stir over high heat until all lumps are broken; boil briskly for 1 minute.

Remove from heat; stir in grated apples. The mincemeat-apple combination should be thick for the turnovers so you may either drain it well or return to low heat and simmer, stirring often, until there is practically no liquid—10 minutes or more.

Make up pie crust according to package directions, but use 1-3 cup cream instead of the water called for. Dough will be stiff and may show cracks. Divide into 2 portions; make a rectangle of each, flattening to 1/4-inch thickness. Chill briefly if desired.

Roll out one portion of dough at a time large enough to give four 4-inch squares plus trimmings; use a pastry wheel for cutting and a prepared pastry cloth and flour-covered stockinet-covered rolling pin.

Put a heaping tablespoon of the mincemeat a little off-center of each pastry square; fold over to make a triangle. Prick tops well; press edges together well with fork tines.

Roll out and cut other portion of dough and fill the same way; gather trimmings from both batches together and roll out to make two more 4-inch squares.

Place turnovers fairly close together on cookie sheet. Beat egg yolk and milk lightly together; brush turnovers with mixture.

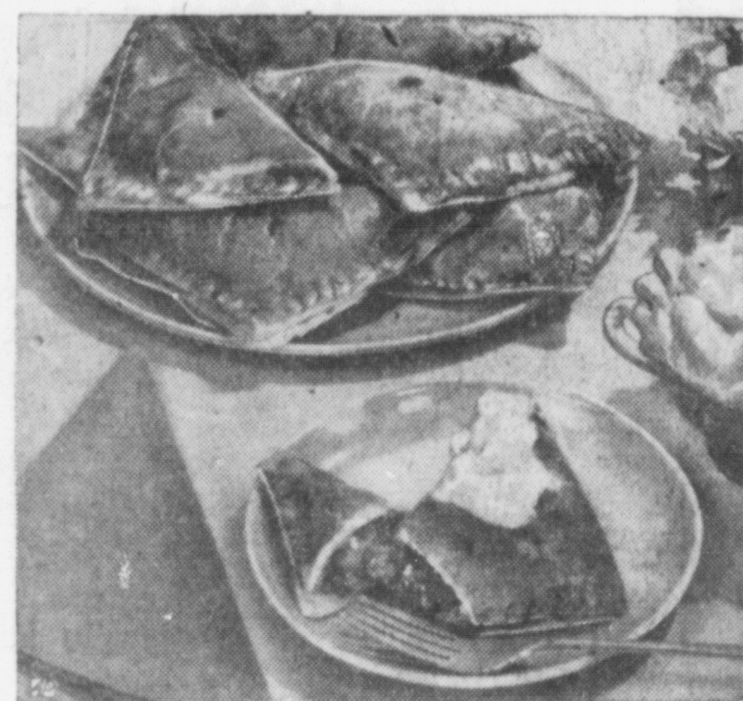

Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven about 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve hot, or refrigerate tightly covered and then heat in very hot oven about 10 minutes. Makes 10 turnovers.

Note: About half of the mincemeat will be used with one package of pastry mix; the remaining should be tightly covered and refrigerated for later use. Any of the egg-yolk glaze leftover can be put in a small covered jar and refrigerated for brushing pastry or cookies.

India Is Thankful For Aid from U. S.

NEW DELHI (U.S.) — India's finance minister has thanked the United States for recently approving loans of $225 million to its government.

Finance Minister T. T. Krishnamachari wrote to U. S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker that it is difficult for citizens of one nation to tax themselves "for the benefit of what must to them appear distant and alien people."

SHINY TOPPED MINCEMEAT TURNOVERS, served hot from the oven, are a bake-ahead speciality.

MORNING... For casual wear, long-sleeved cashmere pullover embroidered motif.

NOON... The well-bred tone-on-tone cashmere sweater blouse for wear with a suit.

NIGHT... Black cashmere with slit sleeves, boat neck, by Bernhard Altmann.

Cashmeres Go Round the Clock

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

One of a girl's best friends is an Asiatic mountain goat named Kashmir.

He's the boy who supplies all the cashmere sweaters that are the backbone of so many feminine wardrobes.

During 1957 Americans spent somewhere around 150 million dollars on garments made from the soft fleece of this gilt-edged goat, and in 1958 the figure is expected to go higher.

A man who discovered the virtues of cashmere early is Bernhard Altmann, a Viennese who owns the world's largest cashmere sweater knitting mill in Austria, and who introduced the dressy cashmere in the United States, as well as tone-on-tone cashmeres and sweaters and skirts dyed to match.

THIS authority on the luxury yarn explains that cashmere comes from the soft winter underfleece of the small, short-legged horned Kashmir goat, whose habitat is chiefly in the upper Himalayan Mountains of Central Asia.

These goats are never shorn; instead, the downy underfleece is plucked or combed out by hand by semi-nomadic Asians who use the valuable goats also for milk and meat.

Some of the cashmere fleece is collected bit by bit from the shrubs on which the animals scratch to rid themselves of their heavy coats during the spring moulting season.

Each goat yields only from two to four ounces of cashmere fleece a year. The annual yield from several animals is needed to make one cashmere sweater, and that of many goats for an overcoat.

RAW cashmere looks little like the soft, beautiful yarn which finally is used in sweaters and fabrics. It arrives in the United States in greasy, four-foot bales.

First it must be opened and scoured, to separate the coarse outer fibers and impurities and to remove dirt and grease. Then it is spun, dyed and knitted or woven into sweaters or fabrics. The natural shades of cashmere are gray, white and brown, with white being the rarest of all and commanding a premium price.

So, by camel, by junk, by steamship and by train the precious fleece finally arrives at mills throughout the world, where it is transformed into the luxury garments that women treasure.

That's why cashmere sweaters are expensive — and why women are willing to pay the price.

TODAY a woman can be well-dressed for almost any occasion if she has a wardrobe of these fine sweaters — casual ones for sports wear, tailored ones for wear with suits, dressy ones for evening wear.

New techniques make possible many novel weaves and color combinations in cashmere sweaters, which nowadays are highly styled and carefully designed for specific kinds of wear.

Soviet Science Plans Sleep-Cutting Gadget

LONDON (U.S.) — Soviet scientists are working on a machine they say will enable a person to get along fine with two hours sleep a night.

A Moscow broadcast said the "electric sleep machine" gives off ultra short waves which in frequency correspond to the molecules of fatigue toxins which developed in the human body during its waking hours. Because the frequencies correspond, the machine "destroys the fatigue toxins."

New Holland News

BY MRS. JAMES DOYLE

NEW HOLLAND—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kirkpatrick, of Main St., entertained the Supper Club Sunday evening at 6:30. The guests came with a covered dish for a most delicious meal.

Informal visiting and cards were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Cris Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Melick, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mossbarger, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garrison, Dr. and Mrs. Ray Nauss, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Helfrich and Mr. Joe Asher of Columbus.

MR. RONALD TRAVIS was honored with a birthday party by his wife at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Day, Washington C. H., Saturday evening.

The game "Monopoly" and informal visiting were enjoyed by all. Mr. Travis opened his gifts and thanked each one.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake, tea and coffee were served.

The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Landman, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Justice, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Creamer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hill and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rodgers of Washington C. H.

MRS. MARY ELLEN STINSON entertained the Double K. Kanasta Klub at the Wardell Party Home on Route 22, Tuesday night.

The members found their places at a small table for the serving of a tempting dessert course.

The remainder of the evening was spent in the playing of cards. After the tallying of scores, prizes were awarded to Mrs. Anne Kirk Jr. and Mrs. John Gifford.

The other members attending were Mrs. Lee Rowe, Mrs. Dean Tarbill, Mrs. Don Adams, Mrs. James Shipley and Mrs. James Doyle.

MR. AND MRS. Maynard Speakman of Egypt Rd., entertained the Farm Couples Group at their home Monday night.

Small tables were placed throughout the home for a most bountiful 7 p. m. covered dish supper.

Mr. Robert Perdue, Chillicothe, Ross County, prosecuting attorney, was the guest speaker. He gave an interesting talk on different phases of law.

Informal visiting was enjoyed by all during the social hour. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. James Hiser, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hiser, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Zurnehly Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Richards, Dr. and Mrs. Dustin Stinson and Mr. and Mrs. James Junk.

THE CALLING GROUP for the Church of Christ on Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Landman, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hines, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Creamer and family. They visited Mrs. Rene Funk of the Williams Rest Home, Washington C. H.; Mrs. Nancy Dick at the Hurler Rest Home, Washington C. H., and Mrs. Edwin Sommer of N. Main St., New Holland, and Mrs. Robert Shaw, East St., New Holland.

THE METHODIST CHURCHES of New Holland and Atlanta are planning special youth services for Sunday, Feb. 2.

Mr. Lisle Stewart, ministerial student at Ohio Wesleyan University, and a good friend of the Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Robinson, will speak. The Methodist Youth Fellowship will participate in the services beginning at 9:30 a. m. in Atlanta and 10:30 a. m. in New Holland.

Special music will be provided and a welcome is extended to everyone especially our youth.

MR. AND MRS. Forrest McCune announce the marriage of their daughter, Georgie, to Carl Miller, son of Mr. Isaac B. Miller, Danville, Ohio. The marriage was performed Dec. 2, 1957, at the First Methodist Church of Adrian, Mich., by the Rev. Ivan E. Hodson.

The new Mrs. Miller was a member of the 1955 graduating class of New Holland High School and is presently employed at the State Office Building in Columbus. Mr. Miller was a member of the 1956 graduating class of Howard High School, Howard, Ohio, and is now associated with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., Columbus. They are making their home at 403 N. Gay St., Mt. Vernon.

THE SECOND LESSON of the Jack Sherrick Ballroom dancing class was held Monday night. Mr. Harold Wright reported that 83 persons are now registered, with 21 in the student's class and 62 in the adult class. This is short of last year's registration.

The instructors, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Blanchard, are teaching a Latin-American step.

MISS GEORGIA CLIFTON and Miss Judy Jacobs were home for the weekend from Wilmington College where they are studying elementary education.

Miss Clifton has joined an organization called The Gospel Team, made up of college students. They visit different churches every Sunday with some of them participating in the services.

On Sunday, Mrs. Charles Clifton, Miss Jacobs and Miss Clifton attended The Friends Church in Jamestown where Miss Clifton was the pianist for the services.

MR. AND MRS. Bert Free held a surprise party in celebration of the 18th birthday of their son, Charles, Saturday night at the White Cottage Restaurant. The invited guests arrived after attending a basketball game at the New Holland High School of which Charles is a member of the varsity team.

A large, two-tier, beautifully decorated cake, in the school colors of blue and white, with the inscription "Happy Birthday, Charles. Best of Luck to You and All the boys," was presented to the honor guest and his teammates by Mrs. Wilbur Fraizer.

The honor guest received a number of lovely gifts for which he graciously thanked each one. Informal visiting, playing of records and the taking of pictures provided enjoyment for all.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and soft drinks were served.

Those present were Robert Yeoman, Roger Yeoman, Johnny Lininger, Bill Garrison, Trevor Bush, Charles Dinkler, Frank Helsel, Jim Landman, Eugene Large, Nancy Wood of Washington C. H., Linda Morris of Clarksburg, Mary Linda Dunn, Kay Landman and the honor guest's sisters, Carolyn and Judy Free. Those not able to attend but who sent gifts were Nelson Bochard, George Jones, and Kenneth Speakman.

THE FAMILY CIRCLE Group of the Methodist Church will hold its regular monthly meeting in the church parlor Sunday evening Feb. 2 to 7 p. m. Each family is asked to bring one pie.

Judge Hands Corn Fine of $5,000 In Tax Hearing

COLUMBUS (AP)—Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood Wednesday fined Dustin E. (Ducky) Corn, Ironton councilman, $5,000 for failing to file cabaret tax returns for a night club Corn operates.

The judge also placed Corn on probation for five years after suspending a penitentiary sentence because of Corn's physical condition.

The judge sentenced Corn to a federal penitentiary on four different counts and levied the fine on the fifth.

Corn originally was indicted on eight counts of not filing cabaret tax returns and eight counts of failing to pay the taxes which amounted to about $15,000. A jury found him guilty of five counts of not filing returns and eight counts of not paying the tax. The judge dismissed the eight felony counts.

Balloonists Plan Flying Platform

NEW YORK (AP)—Scientists will soon have a flying platform to peer over the edge of space, an Air Force balloon researcher says.

Maj. Richard H. Bruan described balloons he said would soon be able to follow the eye of a hurricane or act as a platform for the testing of nuclear weapons high in the atmosphere.

Balloons will soon be able to carry loads of four to five tons as high as 100,000 feet, he told a joint meeting of the American Meteorological Society and the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences.

Ohio Dem Chiefs To Parley Friday

COLUMBUS (AP)—Members of the Democratic State Advisory Committee will gather here Friday for their final pre-primary meeting.

The meeting was called by the state Democratic chairman, William L. Coleman, who said the committee was formed to encourage qualified candidates to enter the primary.

In the 1956 state election, Democrats failed to enter candidates for 17 seats as state representative, and failed to oppose three incumbent Republican state senators.

But this year, qualified Democratic candidates will be entered in more than half those races because of the committee's work.

'Imitate Good Virtues,' Mrs. Adams, 96, Urges

Mrs. Rinda Adams quietly celebrated her 96th birthday Wednesday at Young's Rest Home, 430 S. Fayette St., amid over 75 cards and greetings she has received from friends and relatives.

Still active and energetic, Mrs. Adams related that she never has been ill in bed for a week and that she never had any childhood disease except measles.

When questioned as to whether or not she had some advice for the younger generation, Mrs. Adams spoke of the value of "good virtues for young people," and told of a statement Carrie Nation once made "... Imitate good virtues and stick to them."

Mrs. Adams, a lifelong native of Ross County, was born in Clarksburg in 1862. She recalls that she has lived through four wars, and hopes "... that there won't be another one, but some people aren't satisfied without it!" Her father, Ira Stevens, was a member of the Union Army during the Civil War—he returned from the conflict when she was 3-years-old.

MRS ADAMS far younger than

her age, has been very active in church and community affairs in Clarksburg. She is a charter member of the Women's Society of Christian Service, a member of the Rebekah Lodge, Ross County, Women's Republican Club and the Golden Rule Sunday School class of the Clarksburg Methodist Church. In early life Mrs. Adams became a member of Brown's Chapel, outside Clarksburg, and was a Sunday School teacher there for five years.

She and her late husband, Isaac Adams, who died in 1905, raised four boys. Since her husband's death she has for varying periods of time lived alone, with her parents, and with her sister.

Hobbies of crocheting and growing flowers have made Mrs. Adams well-known in her home community. Another hobby she has enjoyed for many years is the collection of souvenirs and mementos of national elections dating back to the McKinley-Roosevelt campaign of over 50 years ago.

"... I'm so thankful for having nice friends," said Mrs. Adams and then she mused "... Those days in the past were sweet days. ... I can't bring them back, but the times that I had were good!"

Warden Loses Eye, Is Cited After Crash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ralph Alvis, warden of Ohio Penitentiary, is in satisfactory condition here after losing his right eye in an automobile accident Wednesday.

Solly Hart, a Cleveland murderer who has been warden's chauffeur for most of his 19 years in the penitentiary, is in critical condition with chest, back and internal injuries.

Police cited Alvis for passing left of center within 100 feet of an intersection. They reported he attempted to pass a truck driven by George O. Rudolph, 36, of Columbus. The truck turned left at an intersection, crashing into Alvis' private automobile.

Hart, convicted of the slaying of Roy (Happy) Marino in Mahoning County, is one of almost 5,000 inmates at the penitentiary where Alvis has been warden for nearly 10 years.

New Hocking River Dam Boomed To Aid Athens

ATHENS (AP)—The Ohio Water Survey Committee was told here Wednesday that another dam on the Hocking River would lessen a water shortage in Athens.

Gordon K. Bush, publisher of the Athens Messenger, declared that a second dam below the present one could be built for approximately $65,000. He said that, besides creating another water reservoir, it would expand the area's recreational facilities.

U. S.-Soviet Plan Studied

TV-Swap Agreement To Be Complicated

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—The compromise agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union to widen a variety of exchanges—including television and radio programs—raises some substantial problems for the telecasting-broadcasting industry.

You probably will wait along time before seeing or hearing any Soviet programs. Russians also apparently have a long wait.

This is not because of reluctance on the part of American industry.

John Daly, vice president in charge of news and public affairs for the American Broadcasting Co., expressing approval of the idea and a desire to cooperate in it, emphasized the basic problem when he said: "In Russia broadcasting is a monopoly industry. In this country it's a free industry. Thus exchanges between the two raise substantial problems."

The Soviets can accept—or reject—whatever American programs are offered and guarantee to present those they accept on a specific number of their state-run stations. The United States can accept—or reject—Soviet programs. But because American stations are autonomous this country cannot guarantee that the programs will appear on a specified number of stations here.

An equally vital question involves what TV and radio programs might be offered the Soviet Union as representative of American life.

There exists a final technical problem. To dub Russian language onto American film is a costly undertaking. Who is going to pay for it? Maybe somebody in Washington knows, but you can't find anybody in New York who does.

This sounds negative. But there are such positive benefits to be gained from the exchange of ideas with the Russians that one hopes the problems can be overcome.

Food Establishments Issued New Licenses

Fayette County food service establishments, operating under the jurisdiction of the Fayette County Health Department, have received their 1958 food service licenses, according to John Todd, county sanitarian.

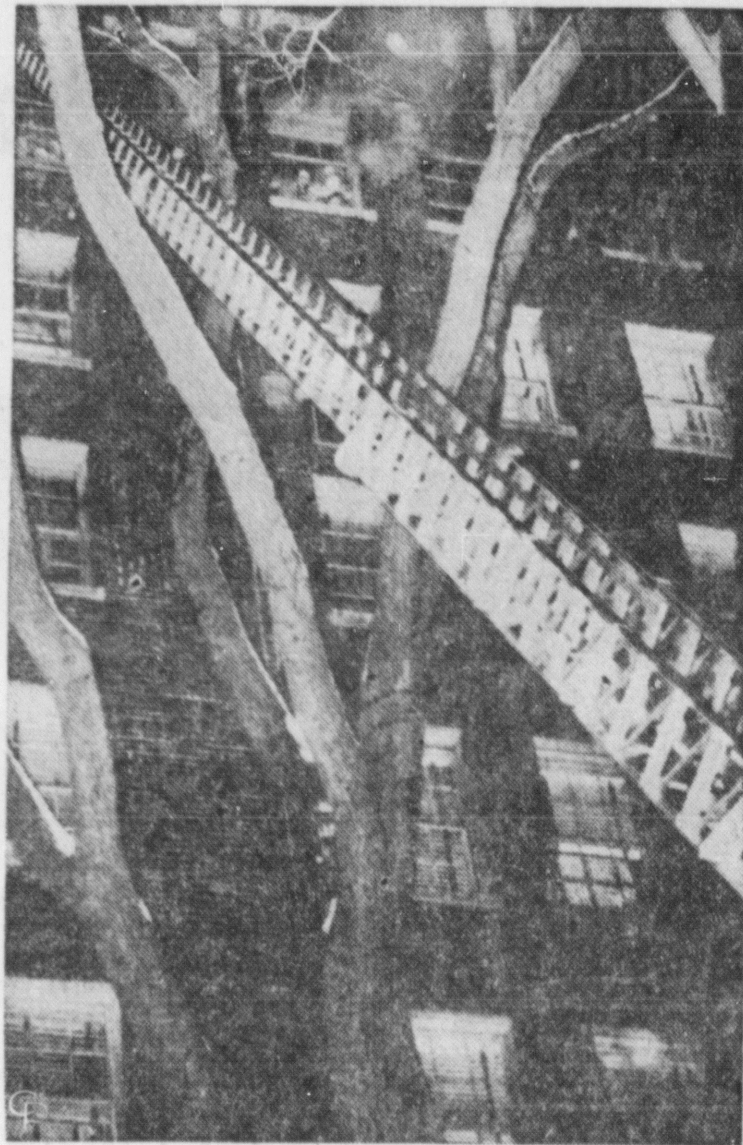

These licenses are issued under regulations set forth by state food service laws under the general directions of the Ohio Department of Public Health.

Where these licenses are displayed, Todd says, it shows that the food service operator and the local health department are working together and cooperating for the benefit of the public. A license granted is evidence that the food service operator is acting in good faith in an effort to prevent outbreak of disease and is taking necessary precautions to protect patrons' health.

Todd recommends that the public which patronizes food establishments give this license their attention with due consideration as to its meaning.

Medical Students To Be Briefed on Small Town Field

COLUMBUS — To interest future physicians in practicing medicine in Ohio's small towns and rural areas, students at Ohio's three medical schools will be given an insight into the practical problems of setting up medical practice at a series of meetings in coming weeks, the Ohio State Medical Assn. announces.

Through its Committee on Rural Health, the association annually sponsors such programs at the three medical schools. The University of Cincinnati medical juniors and seniors will attend the sessions Feb. 9; they will be given for Ohio State seniors Feb. 15, and for Western Reserve juniors at six weekly meetings starting March 5.

"This is just one of the association's several continuous programs to help provide physicians for Ohio's rapidly-growing small towns and rural communities," commented Dr. E. K. Yantes, Wilmington, chairman of the Committee on Rural Health.

Supreme Court's Decision Appraised

CINCINNATI (AP)—A noted Harvard historian says he thinks recent controversial U.S. Supreme Court decisions show "its decisions are based on changing social conditions and always have been."

Dr. Robert G. McCloskey told the annual meeting of the Harvard Club here that "we ask the Supreme Court to help us solve the big problems America faces. This kind of wisdom doesn't come from a 'slot-machine tribunal,' concerned only with legal precedent. It comes from a tribunal consisting of men with opinions and minds of their own."

Even bar killers need protection, Master Crockett. Seven million youngsters got the first Salk polio vaccine in 1955. Your March of Dimes funds developed this vaccine, tested it, provided the first shots within days after it was proclaimed safe and effective. Now, March of Dimes research is making it even more effective. But we must still remember those, born too soon to be protected by the vaccine, who still need care and those tens of thousands who will be stricken in polio epidemics before the vaccine is made even more effective.

County-Wide Meeting Slated By Agronomy Committee Here

A county-wide meeting was scheduled for 1:30 p. m. Feb. 20 when the Fayette County Agronomy Committee held its mid-winter meeting in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

The committee also reviewed accomplishments of the extension agronomy program here last year and laid plans for the coming year.

About the only business on the agenda for the Feb. 20 meeting will be the election of officers and two committeemen from each township.

Topics for the afternoon session include interpretation of soil tests, fertilizer recommendations and new crop varieties. Gordon Ryder, extension agronomist from Ohio State University, will be there to discuss these subjects.

Farmers are being asked to bring their most recent soil tests results to the meeting. There, it was explained, will be used to "personalize" the talk on interpreting the results furnished by the soil inventory laboratory at Ohio State and give farmers an opportunity to ask questions about their own tests.

VICE PRESIDENT Leo Fisher named the nominating committee to bring in its report. On the committee are David Carr, Clarence Cooper and Maurice Sollars. The committee met at the close of the meeting this week and already has selected some of the nominees. Ryder showed a number of slides at the meeting on "Control of Canadian Thistle" and how rate of corn planting is affected by speed of the corn planter.

Some of the projects to be undertaken in the agronomy demonstration program this year, as decided on by the committee, include corn fertilized according to soil test requirements corn planted at three rates per acre and the effect of planter ground speed on number of kernels dropped per acre.

Split fertilizer applications on wheat, drill-box seed survey, chemical weed control on Canada thistle, chemical - pre-emergence for grass in corn and for pre-emergence sprays for grass in soybeans were also included in the program.

Other activities include a corn harvest field day and pasture tour, crops tours to either the University Farm or Crops Day at the experiment station.

912 Get $480,000 In Social Security

A total of 912 Fayette County people will have received over $480,000 from the Chillicothe district office of the Social Security Administration when it completes its first year of operation Feb. 11.

That's the estimate of Elmer H. Biedenholz, district manager, whose office serves Ross, Highland, Pickaway, Fayette, Hocking, Vinton and Pike Counties.

Five employees comprise the staff at its inception a year ago. The number has been increased to 10.

Dayton Woman, 42, Gets Life Sentence

DAYTON (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Robert McBride Wednesday imposed a life sentence in Marysville Reformatory for women on Mrs. Ann Murray, 42. Mrs. Murray was convicted by a jury last Friday of second degree murder in the July 25, 1957 slaying of Mrs. Alberta Cobb, 39.

Before announcing the sentence, Judge McBride overruled a defense motion for a new trial.

Police reported that the slaying was the result of jealousy over the attentions of a man friend. Mrs. Cobb was shot as she sat in her kitchen with the man.

Do Clerks Do a Good Job with Figures? Not Very, Opinion Research Survey Shows

NEW YORK—One out of five clerks can't add a simple column of figures, according to a survey released today by Opinion Research Corporation.

The survey, aimed at testing the ability of clerical and sales people to handle business arithmetic, sampled a group of more than 500 clerical workers employed by 21 different business firms—including department stores, banks and insurance companies.

The problem that was flunked by one out of five involved adding a column of seven two-digit numbers, Opinion Research declared. Even when they were allowed to check their figures—10 per cent of the entire group still came up with the wrong answer, the survey showed. One out of 10 was unable to add two simple figures in his head, it was reported.

IN ONE PROBLEM, for example the clerks were asked to calculate the bill for a simulated basket of groceries.

"One out of three short-changed himself or the customer," Opinion Research reported.

More than 80 per cent of the clerks missed at least one of the 19 problems given in the test. Two-thirds gave the wrong answer to two or more questions. The purpose of the survey was to determine both written and mental arithmetic abilities of the clerks tested.

THE SURVEY, taken for the National Cash Register Co., showed that one out of 10 clerks is unable to mentally calculate a customer refund and that women—normally thought to have "no head" for figures—did just as well on the test as men.

Before the clerks took the exam, they were given another test which showed that their arithmetic ability was average for clerks throughout the nation, Opinion Research declared.

To find out the clerks' ability to calculate a customer refund, they were given the problem:

"Assume that a customer brought 18 cents worth of merchandise and returned empty bottles for a credit of 27 cents. How much money should you give the customer?"

The correct answer is 9 cents, but approximately one out of every 10 clerks came up with a different total. About the same number were unable to add 29 plus 37 in their heads.

THE SURVEY itself did not explain why so many people failed simple addition problems, but Dil-man Smith, director of Opinion Research offered this comment:

"With the increased use of business machines in stores, offices and banks, it isn't necessary for a clerk to be a walking adding machine any more," he said.

However, the survey points up the possibility for mistakes where mechanical means of addition are not used, he added.

Other highlights of the survey were:

A college education apparently has very little effect on a clerk's arithmetic ability. Those who went to college scored only slightly higher than those with less schooling.

Clerks over 40 were slightly more accurate than those in a younger age group.

A clerk who re-checks his answer is more accurate than one who doesn't, the survey showed, but the average employee is still far from a mathematical genius even when he checks his total.

ONE OUT of three clerks was unable to add a column of 15 two-digit numbers correctly—even though they were given all the time they wanted to re-check their answers.

When you add a column of figures, make sure the numbers are lined up properly, the survey showed. During the survey, clerks were given two columns to add. One was lined up and the other was not.

In the former, they made only half the number of mistakes.

Four times the number of errors were made in adding a column of 15 numbers than in totalling a column with five numbers, the survey showed.

Fayette County's December Bond Sales $33,970

During December the Ohio sales of E. and H Bonds hit $26¼ million with Fayette County reporting sales of $33,970.

"While Ohio did not reach its 1957 quota it did compare very favorably with the national sales picture," said R. H. Olinger, chairman of the Fayette county Savings Bonds Committee, "the nation as a whole reached 90 per cent of its quota and with the close of December sales we find the American people owning more E and H Bonds than ever before."

Ohio sales of Series E. and Series H Savings Bonds for the 12 months of 1957 totaled $314,500 or 93.6 per cent of its expected sales quota.

Political Eviction Goes All the Way.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Republican state administration, which began sweeping out Democrats on the top floors of the statehouse last January, wielded the broom in the basement recently.

By accident officials stumbled upon cozy living quarters—a two-room suite equipped with bed, desk, telephone, etc.—downstairs.

C. C. Miller, former custodian under the Democrats, said the furnishings were his. He explained that a few years ago his superiors thought it would be a good idea if he stayed at the statehouse in case of trouble at night.

GOP officials ordered Miller to pack up his belongings, but he still has his present job—with the Democratic state treasurer.

Unemployed? BUC Office Explains Benefit Procedure

(Third in a Series)

The second week of unemployment finds John reporting on time as directed at Station "X" at the local office of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

According to the Manager, Mrs. Matilda Jo Smith of the local BUC office, this station is reserved for those who report for the first time after filing their applications.

The claims clerk expects him; there is no delay when John arrives at the counter in his regular turn. What John is doing now is filing a claim for the previous calendar week of unemployment—the week in which he filed his application.

To do this, he submits his record book, which is stamped. He hands the clerk his weekly claim form which is carefully scrutinized, especially the reverse side on which John Doe has listed the places where he has looked for work during the past week.

THE BUREAU, meanwhile, has been working on John Doe's application; if it has developed that more information is needed about John's work history or reason for separation, a "flasher" will be sent in John Doe's file, and the claims clerk will refer him to an examiner for further questioning.

If no question is raised, the claims clerk will stamp the book,

THEY SAID IT COULD NOT BE FILMED. The story of a girl who had a dream and followed it through to an end of disenchantment, "The Tarnished Angels" will open a three day run Sunday at the Fayette Theater. Rock Hudson and Dorothy Malone (above) are in the leading roles.

and ask John to sign his weekly claim form. She will then hand John a new claim form for the current week, and assign him a permanent reporting day and hour for the following week.

Read in this space tomorrow how John reports in the third week of unemployment to sign for his first benefit check.

Youth Club Activities

WILSON COUNTRY SISTERS

The regular meeting of the Wilson Country Sisters was held at Wilson School with 24 members repeating the 4-H Pledge.

The secretary, Donna Dill, called the roll with each member naming something that should go in a sewing box. The minutes were read and approved.

Rosemary Caplinger, the health leader, asked each girl to give one good daily health practice.

It was reported that most of the members had helped with the Polio Tag Day.

Mrs. Dill, the advisor, passed out 4-H enrollment cards, project books, and gave assignments for next meeting.

Demonstrations were given by Norma Jean Glass on "What Goes In a Sewing Basket" and Carolyn

Dill on "How to Prepare a Quick Snack."

Each of the girls brought cookies or sandwiches prepared for their cooking project and were judged by the leaders.

These were then served with hot cocoa by Karen Carter and Patsy Johnson for refreshments.

Next meeting will be February 11.

Carolyn Dill

PIXIES

The Pixies 4-H Club held its meeting at the home of its vice-president, Pam Payton. After refreshing refreshments the meeting was called to order. The roll was answered by: Pam Payton, Carol Cahill, Patty Wilson, Rita Himmler, Jan Loudner, Marilyn Maddox, Carolyn Limes, Janie Croker, Jeri Anderson, Madeleine Hayes, Mary Ellen Hayes and Mary Orthmeyer.

Project books were passed out by the leader, Mrs. Loudner and members for the Outdoor Cookery Club were decided upon.

Under new business the question of what to sell was brought up. After a few comments on this matter the president said the ways and means chairman would investigate to find the pros and cons of it. The meeting was adjourned.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Fayette County is now 148 years old, or will be on March 1.

An act of the Ohio Legislature, passed on Jan. 19, 1810, became effective March 1, 1810.

The county was formed and Washington C. H. founded the same year, so that the sesquicentennial of both will occur in 1860, and in all probability will be the occasion of a big celebration here in commemoration of the birth of the city and county.

When the county was formed the population totaled 1,854, and when Washington C. H. was founded, the population could almost be numbered on one's fingers.

During the first 10 years the county's population grew to 6,318, and by 1830 it was 8,182. In 1840 the total was 10,984.

At the end of the first 50 years, in 1860, the county had 15,935 inhabitants.

Since 1890 when the population was 22,309, it has changed comparatively little, except the rural population has dropped sharply and the city's population has increased at a corresponding rate.

At the present time the city's population is believed to be in excess of 12,000 and the rural population somewhat over 10,000.

Of the total 22,554 population in the county in 1950, 10,211 people were in the rural area and 10,560 in the city.

The peak rural population in Fayette County was in 1880 when there were 16,666 persons living outside of the city, and at that time the population of the city was 2,798, so that down through the years since that time the rural population has decreased approximately 6,000 and the city's population has grown some 10,000.

THAT "POT OF GOLD"

Reports indicate that more than one youngster of the community, hearing that there was a "pot of gold at the end of the rainbow," started out on a wild goose chase to find the end of the rainbow and obtain the fabled pot of gold.

For a long, long time the old expression about the pot of gold has intrigued little boys and girls, and put ideas into their heads about finding the golden treasure.

I have heard of more than one instance when a bright rainbow was displaying its wonderful colors of a boy or girl starting out on the run to find that pot of gold in a nearby field where the end of the rainbow seemed to rest upon earth. They were then called back by someone, or found that the "end of the rainbow" had vanished like so many prospective fortunes sought by adults, to be won with little effort. The quest ended in the bitter disappointment of those seeking "something for nothing," or "chasing rainbows."

"HONEY HILL"

More than a half century ago S. R. Morris lived on an eminence on the Bloomingburg and Danville Rd. at the point where Compton Creek crosses the road, and because of the fact that he kept a large number of colonies of bees and sold a great deal of honey, the little eminence became known as "Honey Hill."

Not only did Morris dispose of much honey, but he was also noted for the choice cured meats he processed and sold.

For many years he was the "Central College" correspondent of one or two of the Fayette County newspapers.

Following his death the farm was acquired by John Rodgers, who lived in the house until one night a storm blew a tree down, crushing the gas regulator on the pipe leading back to the Rodgers home, allowing the gas pressure to mount suddenly, flare out of the heater. This set the house on fire and it burned to the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers escaped, as I recall, but saved little or nothing in the house.

This occurred a few years after the gas main was built along the Daaville Rd. around 1910.

TWO STATE ROADS IN 1810

When Fayette County and Washington C. H. came into existence in 1810 there were two state roads in the county—the so-called Columbus Rd. and Leesburg Rd. (Now U.S. Route 62) and the Chillicothe (Route 35 east and Jeffersonville (Route 70 north), and from Jeffersonville the state road branched off to Jamestown.

While they were known as state roads the state spent little or nothing toward their maintenance but relied upon the poll tax of $1 per adult male to be worked out on the roads, to keep the roads in something like condition.

However the roads of the county were improved very slowly, and for the most part only the main thoroughfares were passable—most of the time—but as late as 50 years ago even the Columbus Rd. (now the CCC Highway) was impassable to automobiles at points because the gravel with which it was built had been cut through from side to side, and the road was filled with deep ruts. These ruts in turn were filled with water.

It was not until in the 1870's that a big "piking" program was carried out, and roads given better grading and drainage, and a heavy application of gravel made to place them in condition for the traffic of "horse and buggy days", which had not long before taken the place of almost exclusive horse-back travel.

In those days no thought was given to applying crushed stone and other materials to the roads, but their improvement was carried out exclusively by applying gravel in the center, and allowing it to be settled by traffic.

Gettysburg College Planning National Civil War Institute

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A long-sought dream of Civil War buffs and historians may be near reality in this battlefield community.

With the centennial observance of the nation's bloodiest struggle only 3½ years away, Gettysburg College is mapping plans to set up a National Civil War Institute to collect the treasures, fact and fiction of the four-year conflict.

"Gettysburg is a magic name in American history. It marked a beginning in this nation's long rise to world leadership," says Lt. Gen. Willard S. Paul, president of the college.

"We feel the time has come for such an institute, and we are convinced this battlefield is properly the place for it."

TO HELP the plan along the college has earmarked its bullet-scarred Pennsylvania Hall—more familiarly "Old Dorm"—as the first building to house the proposed institute.

Some 94 years ago Old Dorm shook to the sound and fury of the nation's bloodiest battle. It's long halls were slippery with the blood of wounded Union and Confederate soldiers.

Its cupola was the watchtower first of Northern, then of Southern officers plotting the carnage that was the battle of Gettysburg.

Today it stands in quiet repose, shrouded by trees, a home for students.

"We hope the institute will become a center for Civil War studies," Paul said. "Our aim is for it to assist students—both professional and amateur—toward better research and interpretation of the war."

THE IDEA of setting up such an institute grew out of the recent first national conference on the Civil War held at the college in mid-November in conjunction with the school's 125th anniversary.

Top Civil War scholars from across the nation joined forces to reappraise the impact of the conflict on the growth of the United States as a world power. All agreed that there was a need for such an institute and that Gettysburg was the logical place for it.

The conference was the curtain-raiser on what promises to be a massive observance of the Civil War centennial—which will probably continue well into 1965, the 100th anniversary year of the war's end.

Paul says the planned institute would not be limited to military developments, but include civil affairs, arts, literature, politics, international relations and studies of the long-range impact of the war on current national problems.

"TO IMPLEMENT this aim we hope to establish first a summer school Civil War workshop, bringing in the top men in the field as lecturers," Paul said. "Field trips to other Civil War battlefields would be part of the program."

Paul said the long-range plan for the institute is to build up an extensive library and museum covering not only the war period, but also the period leading up to the war and during its aftermath. "With a central institute," adds Paul, "perhaps these elements of our greatest national tragedy can be brought together or catalogued with an eye to preserving them for the future."

Maine Dem Governor To Shun 3rd Term

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP)—Edmund S. Muskie, Maine's first Democratic governor in 20 years, has announced he will not seek reelection to a third term.

The 43-year-old governor has been mentioned prominently as an opponent for U. S. Sen. Frederick G. Payne who said last week he will seek the GOP nomination to run for a second term.

Columbus Boy Wins Prince Of Peace Test

COLUMBUS (AP)—Six poised and self-confident Ohio teenagers walked onto the stage of Veterans' Memorial auditorium here Wednesday and for more than an hour held the attention of an audience of professional speakers.

The occasion was the 3rd annual Prince of Peace Declamation Contest which was won by Henry Beecher Hicks Jr., 14-year-old sophomore at Columbus East High School.

He is the son of the chairman of the Ohio Pastors' Convention. The contest was held in conjunction with the pastors' annual convention here.

Second place was won by Eunice Augsburger, 16, a junior at Fairmont High School in Dayton.

Hans Scherner, 15, a sophomore at Central High School in Wadsworth, was awarded third place.

Hicks will receive a four-year college scholarship plus $200; Miss Augsburger receives a two-year college scholarship and $100, while Scherner will receive a one-year scholarship and $75.

The other three finalists will receive $50 each. They are April Shawhan, 17, a senior at Dayton Fairmont High School; Patricia Mae Kropf, 17, a senior at Orrville High School in Orrville, and Lanny Potts, 17, senior at Fremont Ross High School in Fremont.

Winners of the "Prince of Peace" written essay contest were:

First, Virginia Ruggles, 17, of Springboro, Warren County; second, Rachel Abernathy, Barberton, and third, Nancy Peacock, 16, of Barnesville, Belmont County.

Miss Ruggles will receive $100, Miss Abernathy, $50, and Miss Peacock $25.

Box Dispenses Assorted Sox

EL RENO, Okla. (AP)—Bob Evans got tired of having to hunt around for his socks in the drawer, so he has come up with a gadget—"sox box."

It's a little wooden box that works like a candy machine except that socks come out of the bottom, and they're free. Evans designed the 16-inch long box to hand on a wall and the wife just rolls the socks up and loads the box from the top. Hubby gets a fresh pair from the bottom.

Steelmen Hope Drop in Orders To End Soon

Nonferrous Group Seeks Curb on High Production in World

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Many steelmen are hoping today that the sudden and unexpectedly steep drop in orders may level off soon. Their nonferrous brethren will settle for signs of an end to world wide over production. Nonferrous metals are those not deriving from iron.

If so, this could bring a halt to the sharp pruning of employee rolls and to the dip in profits which hit most metal companies in the final months of 1957.

When steel, copper, lead and zinc orders will start to climb again is another matter. Optimists hope for a slight seasonal upturn in the spring and a healthier one after labor day.

Both ferrous and non-ferrous companies face wage scale rises in the summer that will boost costs once more. For some time non ferrous prices have been falling and steelmen have been finding it harder to maintain the higher prices they put into effect last summer. At that time steel went up an average of $6 a ton while wages increased seven cents an hour.

To keep from banking still more furnaces some steel companies have taken to absorbing freight costs to win distant markets served by their rivals. Some steel warehouses have cut prices on hot rolled steel products, and other steel firms have cut prices on products for the export market.

The current production of steel is running 41 per cent below year ago figures. Even the last strong-hold, structural steel, took a tumble in December, orders dropping 69 per cent below year ago figures.

How the output drop is hurting is shown in U. S. Steel's report that its net profits after taxes in the last three months of 1957 fell 14 per cent from the fourth quarter of 1956.

But a booming first half of the year lifted total 1957 earnings to a record high, 20 per cent above the figures for strife harassed 1956 and 13 per cent above the previous record year of 1955.

A much smaller firm, Jones & Laughlin, also reports profits in 1957, up 0.7 per cent from 1956. But Republic Steel earnings dipped six per cent and Youngstown Sheet & Tube dropped 1.5 per cent.

Of nine steel companies reporting so far, six lagged behind 1956. Thanks to U. S. Steel's record, their combined profits ran 11 per cent above 1956.

Their nonferrous neighbors in the metal industry have a sadder profit story. Of 11 reporting so far, eight fell behind 1956 earnings. Combined the 11 show net income trailing 1956 by 43.2 per cent. The one big company to report, Kennecott Copper, lists profits as off by 49.5 per cent.

The domestic copper industry has been cutting back production as customer orders lagged and the fabricators lived largely off their inventories.

Hope in the industry for better times ahead is based on two things: 1. Belief that customer inventory cutting has gone about as far as it can; 2. A 10 per cent cutback in output in recent days by most copper firms outside the United States.

Markets Feature Ham and Chicken

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ham and chicken get the feature treatment, with larger type and smaller prices, in many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this week.

Ham and other varieties of pork are expected to be somewhat cheaper in the months ahead. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says hog producers plan a 6 per cent increase over last year in 1958 spring farrowings. This should result in a crop of 56 million pigs, or 6 per cent more than a year ago.

Output of chicken also is expected to top 1957, when a record 1,400,000,000 birds were sent to market.

Prices for sirloin steak and rib roast are reported two to six cents a pound higher this week, which accounts for the scarcity of beef offerings in the stores. Those that are featuring beef have selected chuck roast, an old standby of the bargain hunter.

Hamburger, once regarded as a low price regular, is selling in the higher brackets these days.

Potatoes rank as the best buy among vegetables, although onions also are a good bet. Carrots in plastic bags are a little lower this week and should be a good buy.

Lettuce, through trending higher, still is rated a good buy.

Canned and frozen peas are in the bargain class as processors strive to unload big inventories from last year's crop.

'Mad Dog' Irvin Denied Right To Make Appeal

CHICAGO (AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled that Leslie (Mad Dog) Irvin, 33, forfeited appeal by fleeing from custody while under sentence.

Charged with killing six persons, Irvin was tried for the murder of an Evansville, Illinois student attendant on Dec. 23, 1954. He was convicted in Gibson County and sentenced to death.

While awaiting a plea for a new trial, Irvin escaped on Jan. 18, 1956, and was recaptured.

Where Now in Education?

Big Immediate Need: Send Teachers Back to School

Editor's Note: Following is the second in a series of articles appraising the American school system in the face of Russian scientific advances.

By CHARLES L. STAFFORD
AP Staff Writer

One educator put it this way: "We won't launch any satellites by turning out a lot of students in science fields."

"We may by turning out better ones."

He is J. Cloyd Miller, a member of the New Mexico State Board of Education. He was discussing a tough new rule that will send most of the science teachers in his state back to school.

Since the Russians successfully launched the first moon in October, Americans have been asking whether our educational system has failed, and if so where.

An Associated Press survey carried the question across the country to educators at both the state and local levels. At the state level, it found signs of positive action and a wealth of ideas. Several states have taken steps to improve science teaching, broaden the scope of science courses and give talented students new opportunities to learn. Others are studying what needs to be done.

Says Miller: "If they have been out a long while, they need refreshing in their fields. Science is something which doesn't stand still."

New Mexico is seeking better teaching. This may be a natural thing. New Mexico first joined the atom age. The first A-bomb was tested there, and high priority installations dot the state.

The new rule that Miller mentions almost triples the amount of study a teacher needs to teach science.

By Sept. 1, 1960, he says a science teacher must have 24 hours in laboratory courses, including eight hours of physics and one course each in chemistry and biology. Two years later, the minimum requirement will be 36 hours of science.

"My idea is that if we'd had these strict requirements in the past—and could have gotten the teachers—we (the United States) would have been in a much better position today," says Miller.

who also is president of New Mexico Western College.

The New York State Board of Regents has proposed a multi-million-dollar program.

The plan includes an increase in scholarships from 6,000 to 12,000, including 500 more for engineering and science students. It would add one hour to the 5½ hours of daily classroom work in junior and senior high schools.

An extra million dollars a year would be spent helping schools establish experimental courses in science. Special aid also would be provided for teachers wishing to return to college and for gifted students.

Youth Club Activities

SUNNYSIDE CLUB
The Sunnyside Activity Club held its regular meeting in the school Tuesday afternoon.

Jean Reynolds conducted the meeting. The secretary's report was given by Patty Seymour and Ronnie Mayer called the roll and collected the dues.

It was decided that Joan Shockey and Anita Hurt would be in charge of the refreshments for the next meeting. The money collected from the dues will be used to pay for the refreshments.

Friends of the Big Top Cheer Retired Circusana Custodian

By WILLIAM BURCH LEE
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (P) — Confidante of clowns and friend of scholars is Vivienne Mars, for 15 years ringmaster of the world's most famous collection of Circusana.

Recently retired, Mrs. Mars served as librarian of the renowned Harry Hertzberg Circus Collection in the San Antonio Public Library.

She helped assemble the collection, and was its first and only librarian, taking personal pride in the thousands of items of circus lore and personal interest in the personalities of the big top. Says she:

"It's been just wonderful. I've met many of the great people of the circus."

"WE'VE HAD a very limited budget with which to buy articles for our collection. But the circus people have been wonderful to us. They've given us scores of items when they found out we couldn't pay for them.

"And I guess the biggest thrill was on opening day. Not the opening day for the public. But the opening day when Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey were in town."

"The way they wandered around the collection and the wonderful manner in which they spoke of Mr. Hertzberg—well I suppose that was the biggest day for me and the collection."

Now that she is devoting her time being a housewife and amateur artist, Mrs. Mars still receives many visitors of circus fame and discusses with them the good old days.

She recalls the people who came from all over the world to see the collection, and the many letters re-

Spry Daisy Harriman Feted By Women Dems in Capital

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (P) — "Daisy, Daisy, we drink a toast anew," sang members of the Women's National Democratic Club on their 35th birthday as they honored their founder and first president, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman.

Daisy Harriman, who watched her first political torchlight parade at the age of 6 during the 1876 presidential campaign, is nearing her 87th birthday, still amazingly active.

She retired as Democratic National Committeewoman in 1956 after 32 years but she still has the torchlight political enthusiasm she carried through her early years as a suffragette.

Currently, she is chairman of the Washington Home Rule Committee, Inc., which is pressing for home rule for the capital. "Taxation without representation in 1958 is still tyranny," she says.

Democratic Mrs. Harriman says she finds "no appeal in anything the Republican Party has to offer," but it was a Republican who launched her career in politics. New York Gov. Charles Evans Hughes in the early 1900s named her manager of the Bedford Reformatory for Women. She came to Washington in 1913 as a member of the Federal Industrial Relations Committee.

She missed only one Democratic National Convention in recent years. That was in 1940 when she was U. S. minister to Norway and busy escaping from Nazi-stormed Oslo. She learned to ski in Norway at 67.

Mrs. Harriman, the former Florence Jaffray Hurst, was one of the great belles of her era. She made her debut at famed Delmonico's in New York.

In 1889, she married J. Borden Harriman, a wealthy New York banker and second cousin of current New York Gov. Averell Harriman. Her husband died in 1914 and their only child, Mrs. Ethel Russell, died in 1953. There are two grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Mrs. Harriman still is one of the

2 Akron Men Get Life Sentences

AKRON (P) — Two Akron men have been sentenced to life in prison for the slaying of Angelo Lucette, 78-year-old grocer, after pleading guilty to a first degree murder charge and asking mercy.

The sentence was pronounced by Common Pleas Judges Frank W. Harvey, Claude V. D. Emmons and Ray B. Watters.

The defendants, John Henry Cooper, 60, a car washer, and Glen W. Pierce, 35, an unemployed laborer, admitted striking the grocer over the head with a wrench when he surprised them as they sought to rob his store. The men took $110.

best known "salonieres" of Washington. She is equally at home presiding over a tea or dinner or political gathering. She is especially noted for her intimate but lively Sunday night suppers.

"Daisy, Daisy, we drink a toast anew," sang the lady Democrats "We're so lazy, compared to the likes of you."

Kelley To Shun Governor's Race

COLUMBUS (P) — William Cody Kelly, vice mayor of Cincinnati mentioned as a possible "insurance" Republican candidate for governor, says that in view of the favorable medical reports on Gov. C. William O'Neill, he did not intend to file petitions in the gubernatorial primary.

Said Kelly: "Medical reports indicate that Gov. O'Neill's rapid recovery is expected and that he will be able to wage his usual vigorous political campaign. This is good news to all of us. In view of this information I will not file for the gubernatorial primary and will support Gov. O'Neill in every possible way in his campaign for re-election."

Faces Trouble

Undefeated Status Viewed as Shaky

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
What has figured to be the beginning of a chance at prestige could tonight be the beginning of the end for St. John's of Brooklyn, last of the unbeaten in major college basketball.

St. John's (9-0) took over the undefeated list when West Virginia, top-ranked for six weeks in The Associated Press poll, was knocked off Monday at Duke.

But now the Redmen, rated 13th, have lost big man (6-6) Lou Ruel to injury for tonight's road game against Pittsburgh. He'll still be missing Saturday at Philadelphia against 11th-rated Temple.

After that, it's West Virginia at Madison Square Garden a week from tonight.

Only one of the top 10 was busy Wednesday night. Eighth-ranked Kentucky belted Georgia 74-55 and reclaimed full share of the South-eastern Conference lead. The Wildcats (13-4), in the midst of a three-game road schedule, fell into a tie for the top with Georgia Tech when the Engineers upset 'em Monday.

Vern Hatten led Kentucky scoring with 20 points against Georgia, but it was the second half sharp-shooting of reserve Earl Adkins that got the job done. Adkins scored 14 points, all in the last 20 minutes.

Notre Dame, whipped by 11 at Louisville, peppered the Cardinals 73-53 at South Bend, Dayton defeated Xavier of Ohio 74-59. A balanced attack brought Duquesne an easy 66-58 decision over St. Francis of Brooklyn.

St. Joseph's (Pa.) defeated Lafayette 98-97, and NYU ended Fordham's winning streak at four, 90-73. Army eased home for a 76-66 victory over Siena, the Air Force defeated Creighton 63-52. Brown defeated Northeastern 91-77, and Montana, the Skyline lead-tana State in a non-conference game. Marshall whipped St. Francis, was beaten 72-63 by Montana State in a non-conference game. Marshall whipped St. Francis (Pa.) 100-96.

Pony Football Meet Tonight

Preliminary plans for next fall's pony football program will be laid at a meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday (today) in the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium.

Dr. Charles Griffiths, president of adult organization that supervises the program, called the meeting. It is, he said, for all boys in the fourth and fifth grades (fifth and sixth graders next year), who are interested in playing football next fall, and their parents. He emphasized that the parents are wanted especially, so the program can be explained to them.

One of the reasons for this meeting, he said, is to make plans far enough in advance so play can be started earlier than last year, the first for the program here—and finish earlier, before cold weather. Pony football, which has the backing of the WHS coaching staff, and the Boosters Club, is for boys in the fifth and sixth grades. There were four teams in the league last year and two games were played each Saturday night at Garden Park.

Dr. Griffiths said plans call for getting more uniforms so more boys can play.

Campanella Still Shows Improvement

GLEN COVE, N. Y. (AP)—Dodger catcher Roy Campanella continued to improve today, but he still has not shaken off the paralysis which struck him from chest to toes in an auto accident.

The burly, 36-year-old baseball veteran has regained some feeling in his hands, arms and upper chest.

The hospital also said there had been an indication of strength and some movement in his hands. But his legs remained paralyzed.

He still is on the critical list. Campanella, three times the National League's Most Valuable Player with the Brooklyn Dodgers, was injured early Tuesday. His car skidded, hit a telephone pole and turned over.

Campy suffered a broken neck. He has been in a form of traction since a 4½-hour operation to relieve pressure on a nerve.

His wife Ruth spent 2½ hours at his bedside Wednesday, but he slept through the visit. The Campanella's have six children.

The 215-pound catcher has been taking fluids through the mouth, but has been fed intravenously.

Doctors still consider the overall picture encouraging but admit it may be months or years before he returns to normal. They are hopeful the paralysis eventually will disappear.

Celtics Chalk 17th On Home Court

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Celtics are a tough club to beat on any National Basketball Assn. court. But they're virtually invincible at home, particularly when Bob Cousy is dumping in 39 points.

Just when it appears that the Celts are going to drop back to the rest of the Eastern Division pack, they're back in Boston Garden to pick up another victory.

Wednesday night, they rallied in the second half to whip the St. Louis Hawks 111-101 in the night's only NBA action. That made it 17 straight home victories.

Musial, Williams Setting More Marks in Baseball

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ever since they have been in the major leagues, Stan Musial and Ted Williams have bettered one baseball record or another.

Now Musial has added another one to his long list. Put it under "highest annual salary, National League"—$100,000. The St. Louis slugger signed for that figure Wednesday.

Stan's salary is not a major league mark only because Williams is expected to hit $125,000 when he comes to terms with the Boston Red Sox.

Musial's contract represented a $20,000 boost over 1957. The 37-year-old veteran earned it with his league-leading .351 average coupled with 29 homers and 102 runs batted in.

Williams, 39, who is more concerned with fishing than baseball at the moment, should have no trouble reaching a salary agreement with the Red Sox. Ted's .388 batting performance of last season is a good "line" and $125,000 is excellent "bait."

Almost from the start of Musial's career in 1941 baseball fans have been arguing whether he or Williams is the better hitter.

'No-Harm, No-Foul' Ruling Trimming Big Ten Scoring

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten basketball teams, probably due to the conference's "no-harm, no-foul" principle in officiating, are scoring 2.3 points per game less than their 1957 season averages.

Official statistics released today disclosed conference teams are averaging 71.5 points per game for the first 26 league contests played this season.

While scoring is down, however, so are personal fouls which have dropped from a 1957 average of 17.9 per game to 15.0 to date this season.

Semester examinations held competition to a minimum last week. As a result, there was little change in team standings or statistics.

However, the race swings back into high gear Saturday with a four-game conference program highlighted by first-place Michigan's tussle with invading Purdue in a regional TV matinee. Michigan has a 3-1 record and Purdue stands 2-3.

Saturday night games include Ohio State (4-2) at Iowa (3-3); Minnesota (1-4) at Michigan State (3-2); and Northwestern (3-3) at Illinois (1-3). Indiana (3-2) has a non-loop appearance at De Paul. Wisconsin (3-3) is idle.

The Big Ten's two scoring leaders, Archie Dees of Indiana and Don Ohl of Illinois, marked time in the individual race with averages of 26.6 and 24.3.

Minnesota's George Kline, although playing in two losing games, held third place with a 22.4 average.

Chief scoring change found Purdue's Willie Merriweather soar from 17th to 7th place with 29 points in a losing effort against Ohio State Monday night. Only other newcomer to the top 10 was Ron Johnson of Minnesota, who climbed from 14th to a 9th place tie with Governor Vaughn of Illinois and M. C. Burto of Michigan at 16.8.

Other leaders and their averages included: Pete Tillotson, Michigan, fourth, 20.8; Dave Gunther, Iowa, fifth, 19.2; Frank Howard, Ohio State, sixth, 18.5; and Jerry Thompson, Indiana, eighth, 17.0.

Michigan State's John Green, although 12th in scoring with a 16.0 average, leads the league in rebounds with a 5-game average of 18. Howard is next with an average of 16 retrieves in 6 games.

Bloomington Wins Junior Cage Game

The Bloomington Bullpups ended their junior high basketball 11 season Wednesday with their 15th win in 16 starts—a hard-fought 50-41 triumph over Madison Mills on the Warrior court.

The home team kept the Bullpups on the jump from start to finish, and it wasn't anybody's game until Bloomington started to pull away at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

Bloomington's only loss so far this season came against Chillicothe earlier in the season, when the Pups were without the services of Knisley, who scored 22 points in the victory over Madison Mills.

Other scoring: Madison Mills—Webb, 4, D. Williams, 5, L. Williams, 24, Butcher, 2, and Browning 6.

Bloomington—Knisley, 22, Williams, 4, Ayers, 20, McCoy, 2, Weaver, 2, Brown and Craig, 0.

County League Ends Friday

Jeff. Bloomington Could Split Title

Will it be Jeff alone? Or Jeff and Bloomington?

Well, the chances are it will be Jeff alone if the pattern of the past is carried out—but an upset on Friday's basketball docket could throw the Fayette County hoop league into an indissoluble end-of-season tie.

Jeffersonville, by virtue of a 54-47 victory over Bloomington in a hard-fought game last Friday, has cut itself in for at least a share of the league honors.

If the Tigers beat Wayne Friday night on the Jeff court, there's nothing Bloomington can do to keep them from undisputed possession of the league crown.

But if Wayne upsets the league leaders—and if Bloomington does not get upset by Madison Mills—the second-place Bulldogs, sporting a respectable 3-2 record, could force them to settle for a first-place tie.

The two county-league close-outs are the most crucial games on the Friday night hoop card. But the chances are just as much interest will attach itself to the Washington C. H. league contest at Circleville.

The Lions, trailing Wilmington by just half a game in league standings, can't afford to lose any more games if they hope to wrest away the crown. And the Wilmington squad, tackling unimpressive Hillsboro, probably can count on another victory for their cap Friday.

NEW HOLLAND, out of the running for Pickaway County League honors, still has a chance to defend its respectability to two wind-up PC league games, against Williamsport and Jackson. The Bulldogs will be at Williamsport Friday night and Jackson will come to them Feb. 7.

Winning both games would give them a 7-3 record for the season.

Mangrum, Hebert Favored in Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—With pre-tournament rounds as a yardstick, veteran Lloyd Mangrum and youthful Lionel Hebert measure up as the golfers to beat in the $15,000 Phoenix Open.

A field of 155 tees off today in the first round of the 72-hole tournament over the narrow, tree-lined Phoenix course.

Mangrum and Hebert, 30-year-old trumpet player from Louisiana both posted 5-under-par 66s Wednesday to share top money in the $2,500 pro-amateur prelim.

Jim Pace Honored As Big Ten Leader

CHICAGO (AP)—The Silver Football award was presented to Michigan's All-America halfback, Jim Pace, Wednesday night for his selection as the Big Ten's most valuable player last fall.

The presentation was made at the University of Michigan Club of Chicago banquet attended by 500 alumni, Michigan officials and Chicago area coaches.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE - Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Two from Here At OEA Meeting

Better Educational Methods Is Purpose

Two Washington C. H. school principals are in Columbus now for a three-day conference sponsored by the Ohio Education Assn. for the improvement of educational standards and methods. This year's conference spotlights the teaching of mathematics and science.

M. Kaye Blosser, principal of the high school, and James Stroud, principal of Eastside School, are among the more than 600 teachers and administrators from all over the state attending the sessions, which opened Thursday morning in the Dresher-Hilton Hotel. The conference ends Saturday.

They were appointed by the school board on recommendation of the City Teachers Assn. and Superintendent W. A. Smith. Earl Miller, Cherry Hill School principal, is president of the C.T.A.

The Fayette County-Miami Trace district is not represented, Superintendent W. J. Hilty and Superintendent W. W. Boyer, said.

THE CONFERENCE is held annually by the OEA to discuss and review latest techniques for improvement of instruction in Ohio schools.

Arthur F. Corey, executive secretary of the 95,000-member California Teachers Assn., keynoted the conference at the first general session at 10:30 a. m. Thursday. Corey is a member of the Educational Policies Commission, discussed the recent EPC policy statement proposing both immediate and long range goals for U. S. education in light of Soviet technological advances.

Dean C. E. Ficken of Ohio Wesleyan University, and executive secretary of the Governor's Commission on Higher Education will report on the Commission's findings and recommendations at the Thursday evening session.

Much of the conference will be devoted to group discussions for the improvement of instructional methods in 24 different educational areas, including elementary and high school science and math teaching techniques, teaching of "gifted" children, vocational guidance and classroom discipline.

MORRIS MEISTER, principal of Bronx High School of Science, will speak at Friday's dinner on methods of selecting and training students to meet the nation's need for scientists and technicians. On Saturday Meister becomes president of Bronx Community College, after 20 years at Bronx High school.

Gerald Reed, Kent State University professor who returned earlier this month from a trip to Russia, will be among panelists who will view possible changes in American education requirements resulting from the Soviet speed-up in science. Reed, secretary-treasurer of the Comparative Education Society, observed the Soviet education program during December and January.

The panel, which will include President Kevin McCann, Defiance College; E. E. Meyers, Iron ton, president of the State Board of Education; L. Lowell Wilkin, Greenfield industrialist and officer of the Ohio School Boards Assn., and W. B. Bliss, OEA executive secretary, will discuss the issues at 9 a. m. Saturday. Asst. Supt. Harry E. Ritchie, Cleveland, will serve as moderator.

The conference will be directed by OEA's Commission for the Improvement of Education headed by Supt. William M. West, Greenfield.

Hornbeck Files For 6th Term On Area Court

Judge Roscoe G. Hornbeck, London, has filed for reelection to the Second District Court of Appeals.

The 78-year-old jurist will be seeking his sixth term on the appellate bench where he first took his seat in 1929. His present term expires in February 1959.

Judge Hornbeck will seek the Republican nomination at the May primary.

His primary opponent will be Fayette County Common Pleas Judge John P. Case who filed last week. Judge Case is 49.

Military Grip On U. S. Space Study Hit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress appears headed toward a showdown battle over civilian vs. military control of outer space tests.

A decision by Secretary of Defense McElroy to set up a Pentagon Advanced Research Projects Agency brought open opposition today to over-all military direction of space developments.

McElroy said the ARPA, which is to work on antimissile and outer space projects, will be officially set up "in a day or two." He said he wants it in existence before funds are voted for it.

While they did not immediately challenge McElroy's decision, Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) and other members of the Senate Armed Services Committee said the secretary's action is not going to be accepted by them as any final determination of who will supervise the race to space.

"This is a matter on which Congress must have full information," Russell said. "This is too vital a matter to be disposed of by some administrative order."

Russell said he is opposed to putting direction of the program in the hands of the Atomic Energy Commission as Senators Anderson (D-NM) and Gore (D-Tenn) have proposed. They too have opposed military control.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) proposed a separate Cabinet-level department, saying, "The peaceful conquest of space is highly important and must not be overshadowed by military projects."

WCH Jaycees Aid New Sabina Group

SABINA — Sabina's new Junior Chamber of Commerce chapter held its second organizational meeting Wednesday evening at the Municipal Building in Sabina. Jim Schwartz, Bill Williams and J. O. Garringer from the sponsoring Washington C. H. chapter attended the meeting and presented background on the Jaycee organization.

Tom Anders was elected temporary chairman of Sabina's chapter at the meeting, with Dana Brown being selected for the post of temporary secretary-treasurer. The new group now has 19 signed applications for membership.

Sabina's Jaycees will meet Wednesday, Feb. 5 at 7:30 p. m. in the Municipal Building. Permanent officers will be elected and a constitution will be adopted at that time.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

Cyclist, 15, Hurt As Car Hits Bike

A 15-year-old Washington High School student was injured Wednesday afternoon when he rode his bicycle into the path of a car on Temple St. near the school building.

Treated at Memorial Hospital for cuts and bruises was Jerry Powell, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dean Powell of 936 Briar Ave. Driver of the car, Mrs. Wilbur Knisley, 51, of Bogus Rd., was not held.

Police said school had just dismissed at 3:30 p. m. when Powell climbed on his bicycle and rode between parked cars, in front of a double-parked auto and into the path of Mrs. Knisley's car.

Mrs. Knisley skidded to a stop, but the front end of her car hit the boy. He was thrown into the street.

It was the only accident reported here overnight.

City Loan Chief Dies At Age 69

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services will be held at Christ Church Episcopal here at 2 p. m. Friday for Thomas Richard Schoonover, 69, Lima financier who Wednesday in St. Rita's Hospital. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery.

The Washington C. H. office of the City Loan and Savings Co. will be closed Friday afternoon in respect to the memory of Thomas R. Schoonover, founder of the firm and chairman of its board of directors, who died Wednesday in Lima.

Schoonover was chairman of the board of City Loan and Savings Co., which has 152 offices throughout the state.

He suffered a coronary attack in November, and had been in the hospital since that time.

He was born in Wichita, Kan., and came to Ohio in 1892. He attended schools at St. Marys, Ohio, and later went to the University of Chicago. He entered the banking business in 1907 and for a time was with the First National Bank of Wapakoneta. He founded the City Loan and Savings Co. here in 1912, and became president of the firm in 1915. He served as president until he retired in 1957 and then became chairman of the board.

U. S. Summit View Debated

European Pressure
Continues To Mount

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States faces mounting difficulties in holding to its position that a summit conference should be held only if there is advance proof it will be successful.

State Department officials are worried over reports from Western Europe that public opinion increasingly favors a top-level conference with Russian leaders on Soviet terms if it cannot be arranged on Western terms.

Officials report that there is so far no basic difference of view among Allied governments on their demand for careful preparation in advance of a top-level session. That preparation would have to afford proof that such a meeting can achieve agreements on important issues.

But public opinion in countries like Britain exerts a powerful pressure on government policies as it does here. This may make it difficult for the Allies to maintain a solid front on the matter.

Furthermore, the Soviets are expected to exploit to the limit the European interest in a meeting.

THE STATE Department has received a steady stream of reports this week from embassies abroad on European press reaction to comments made Sunday by White House news secretary James Hagerty.

Hagerty said in substance that the only thing necessary was to agree on an agenda. After the broadcast he specifically denied that he meant in any way to modify President Eisenhower's stated ambitions for a meeting.

Nevertheless, reports to the State Department show that his original remarks were interpreted as indicating a modification and in the last three days the department has been making public statements trying to knock down this idea. The latest came from press officer Lincoln White.

White told reporters "it should be abundantly clear" that the United States wants "to move toward a summit meeting under conditions which give promise of success."

Doctor Uses Hypnosis, Finds Name of Springfield Man

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A doctor using hypnosis for the first time evoked Wednesday night the name and address of a man who wandered into police headquarters and said he didn't know who he was.

During the treatment, the man identified himself as Danny Cottrell, Springfield, Ohio.

Lt. R. B. Jordan of the Springfield Police Department told Houston police there are warrants out for Danny Cottrell, 34. One is a non-support charge filed by his wife and the other charging theft by false pretext was filed Jan. 13 by his employer, Alpha Robinson, a tire dealer.

Robinson said he gave Cottrell $205 Jan. 15 to purchase old inner tubes at Bradford, Ohio. Cottrell had been missing since then.

The man later identified as Cottrell, neatly dressed and soft-spoken, walked into police inspector Foy Melton's office and said he didn't remember who he was or where he came from. He said he recalled stopping sometime earlier and asking someone where he could get something for a headache. The passerby directed him to the police station.

Police took him to a hospital. The doctor diagnosed him as an amnesia victim and tried a form of hypnosis he had seen, but never used.

The doctor asked: "If I wanted to send you a card where would I send it?" The man answered: "To 1354 Albermarle Road, Springfield, Ohio."

"And to whom would I send it?" "To Danny Cottrell."

Cottrell was returned to the police station.

Asked if he would be willing to return to Ohio if officers came for him, Cottrell replied:

"I don't know of any reason why not. So far as I know I haven't done anything. But I'll be willing to get back and find out if I've done anything wrong. I want to clear it up."

Police did not disclose the name of the doctor.

Dentist's Aching Back Under Study

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A UCLA physical education professor, Dr. Laurence Morehouse, and a dentist, Dr. Sanford S. Golden, are studying aching backs in the dental profession.

While working on a dummy patient, the dentist is tested for fatigue clues. His blood pressure, respiration and muscular efforts and tensions are recorded.

Dr. Morehouse said the research may lead to new dental equipment in which the dentist sits while the patient half reclines on a couchlike chair.
